

Special Issue on Psychiatry and Mental Health

Call for Papers

Psychiatry is the medical specialty devoted to the diagnosis, prevention, and treatment of mental, emotional and behavioral disorders. The psychiatrists treat these disorders using a variety of therapies (such as psychotherapy, medications, psychosocial interventions, electroconvulsive therapy, etc.) depending on the needs of each patient. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Psychiatry and Mental Health.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Psychiatry and Mental Health. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Addiction psychiatry
- Antipsychotic medications
- Brain disorders
- Child and adolescent psychiatry
- Dementia
