

Special Issue on Pharmacy Practice and Science

Call for Papers

Pharmacy Practice and Science is an academic topic that encompasses the application of scientific knowledge and principles in the practice of pharmacy. It involves the study of drug properties, dosage forms, dispensing techniques, patient counseling, and the provision of optimal pharmaceutical care. Pharmacy Practice and Science also explores the management of drug therapy, drug interactions, and patient safety, aiming to improve patient outcomes and ensure the rational and effective use of medications.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Pharmacy Practice and Science. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Pharmacotherapy
- Pharmaceutical care
- Drug information and evidence-based practice
- Medication safety and quality assurance
- Pharmacy management and administration
- Drug dispensing and distribution
- Pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics
- Pharmaceutical biotechnology
- Drug formulation and delivery
- Comparative effectiveness research
- Drug design and discovery

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Pharmacy Practice and Science” should be chosen during your submission.
