With the Covid-19 pandemic continuing, the global economy entered 2022 in a weaker position than previously expected. The COVID-19 crisis caused profound disruptions in the global economy.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Global Economic Crisis. Potential topics include, but are not limited to

- COVID-19 recession
- Impacts, transmission and recovery
- Structural change
- Global supply chains
- Housing crisis
- Smart lockdown strategies
- Political economy
- Unemployment
- Policy response
- Macroeconomic policy
- Banking crisis
- Stock markets
- Impacts on international trade
- Global financial markets
- Global financial system
- Innovation and business model
- SMEs and entrepreneurship
- Global economic crisis and public administration

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Global Economic Crisis” should be chosen during your submission.
