

Special Issue on
Macroeconomic Analysis—Monetary and Fiscal Policy
Call for Papers

Macroeconomic Analysis—Monetary and Fiscal Policy is an academic topic that examines the interplay between monetary and fiscal policies in managing and stabilizing economies. Researchers in this field study how central banks implement monetary policies, such as interest rate adjustments and money supply control, to regulate economic growth, inflation, and unemployment. They also analyze how governments utilize fiscal policies, such as taxation and spending, to influence aggregate demand and promote economic stability. The goal is to understand the effects of these policies on key macroeconomic variables and develop insights that can guide policymakers in making informed decisions.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Macroeconomic Analysis—Monetary and Fiscal Policy. Potential topics include, but are not limited to

- Macroeconomic modeling and forecasting
- Keynesian approach
- Economic policy analysis
- Macroeconomic theory for public policy
- Macroeconomic dynamics
- Capital, investment and policy
- GDP, monetary & fiscal policy and policy
- Consumption and saving
- Money and inflation
- Money, interest, and prices
- Banking, finance and credibility
- Labor market flows and unemployment
- Monetary policy transmission mechanisms
- Inflation analysis and price stability
- Exchange rate policy and international macroeconomics
- Fiscal policy and government spending
- Public debt and deficit analysis
- Monetary theory and policy evaluation
- Financial markets and macroeconomic policy
- Macroeconomic policy, coordination and cooperation.

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Macroeconomic Analysis—Monetary and Fiscal Policy” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	April 10th, 2024
Publication Date	June 2024

For publishing inquiries, please feel free to contact the Editorial Assistant at submission.entrance1@scirp.org

TEL Editorial Office
tel@scirp.org