Special Issue on Financial Innovation and Technology

Call for Papers

Financial Innovation and Technology explores the intersection of finance and advancements in technology, focusing on how new tools, platforms, and systems revolutionize financial services. This field covers topics such as blockchain and cryptocurrencies, mobile banking, peer-to-peer lending, robo-advisors, and digital payment systems. It examines the impact of these innovations on traditional financial models, regulatory challenges, cybersecurity concerns, and the broader implications for global economic structures. Ultimately, this area aims to understand and predict how technological progress shapes the future of finance.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Financial Innovation and Technology. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Financial innovation and economic growth
- Fintech startups and entrepreneurship
